INTRODUCTION

This handbook has been prepared to inform you about Ideal Merchandising's employment practices, and policies, as well as the benefits provided to you as a valued employee and the conduct expected from you. It is designed as a guide to insure consistent, fair, and uniform treatment of all employees. No employee manual can answer every question, nor would we want to restrict the normal question and answer interchange among us. It is in our person-to-person conversations that we can better know each other, express our views, and work together in a harmonious relationship. Any questions regarding the interpretation of information covered may be discussed with your manager. Any suggestions for improvements are always welcome. It is the policy of the Company to encourage employee recommendation that will benefit employee-employer relations. We wish you success in your career at Ideal Merchandising, Inc. We know you will find the working atmosphere to be pleasant and friendly, and we hope you will contribute to this spirit.

We ask that you read this Manual carefully, and refer to it whenever questions arise. We also suggest that you take it home so your family can become familiar with Ideal Merchandising, Inc. and our policies.

Ideal Merchandising Inc.'s policies, benefits and rules, as explained in this Manual, may be changed from time to time as business, employment legislation, and economic conditions dictate. If and when provisions are changed, you will be given replacement pages for those that have become outdated.

No statement or promise by a manager, or district manager may be interpreted as a change in policy nor will it constitute an agreement with an employee.

Should any provision in this Employee Handbook be found to be unenforceable and invalid, such finding does not invalidate the entire Employee Handbook, but only the subject provision.

It is required of each employee, while working in a Lowe's Store, you abide by that Store's practices, policies and procedures in that State, as well as the guidelines set forth in this handbook.

EMPLOYMENT POLICIES

At Will Employment

All employment and compensation with Ideal Merchandising, Inc. is "at will" which means that your employment can be terminated with or without cause, and with or without notice, at any time, at the option of either Ideal Merchandising, Inc., or yourself, except as otherwise provided by law.

Equal Employment Opportunity

Equal Employment Opportunity has been, and will continue to be, a fundamental principle at Ideal Merchandising, where employment is based upon personal capabilities and qualification without discrimination because of race, color, religion, creed, national origin, ancestry, disability, sex, age, military status or any other status protected by applicable Federal, State and Local laws.

This policy of Equal Employment Opportunity applies to all policies and procedures relating to recruitment and hiring, compensation, benefits, termination and all other terms and conditions of employment.

Americans With Disabilities Act

It is our policy to comply with all the relevant and applicable employment provision of the Americans With Disabilities Act ("ADA"). We will not discriminate against any qualified employee or job applicant with respect to any terms, privileges, or conditions of employment because of a person's physical or mental disability.

Drug Free Workplace Policy

Ideal Merchandising, Inc. is committed to providing a safe work environment and to fostering the well-being and health of its employees. That commitment is jeopardized when any of our employees use drugs on the job, comes to work under the influence, or possesses, distributes or sells drugs in the workplace. The term "drug" includes alcoholic beverages and prescription drugs, as well as illegal inhalants and illegal drugs.

The goal of this policy is to balance our respect for individuals with the need to maintain a safe, productive drug-free environment. Drugs will not be tolerated at the work site. Abuse of prescribed medications and over-the-counter drugs will not be tolerated at the work site.

With these basic objectives in mind, we have established the following policy:

A. It is a violation of policy for any employee to possess, distribute, sell, trade, or offer for sale drugs or otherwise engage in the use of drugs on the job.

B. It is a violation of policy for any employee to report to work under the influence of drugs.

C. It is a violation of policy for any employee to misuse prescription drugs which may affect performance of work.

D. Violations of this policy subject the employee to discipline, up to and including immediate termination.

An employee reporting to work visibly impaired and who is unable to properly perform required duties will not be allowed to work. When possible, the supervisor should first seek another supervisor's opinion of the employee's status. Then the supervisor should consult privately with the employee to determine the cause of the observation, including whether alcohol or other substance abuse has occurred. If, in the opinion of the supervisor, the employee is considered impaired, the employee should be sent by taxi or other safe transportation to a medical facility for testing. An impaired employee must not be allowed to drive.

Testing

Employees will be tested for the concentration of drugs as identified by the Substance Abuse & Mental Health Administration (SAMHA):

Marijuana metabolites	50 ng/ml
Cocaine metabolites	300 ng/ml
Opiate metabolites	300 ng/ml
Phencyclidine	25 ng/ml
Amphetamines	1,000 ng/ml
Alcohol	0.02-0.04 breath concentration

A. Pre-Employment Testing

We reserve the right to conduct pre-employment drug testing. When pre-employment testing is implemented, the testing will be conducted for all applicants who are tendered a conditional offer of employment. The conditional offer of employment will be withdrawn for any applicant who tests positive for drugs.

Applicants may be required to voluntarily submit to a test at a collection site chosen by the employer, and will be required to sign a consent agreement which will release the employer from liability.

B. Current Employee Testing

All current employees are subject to drug and alcohol testing as described below. Urine will be used for the initial test for all drugs except alcohol and for the confirmation of all drugs except alcohol. Breath analysis will be used for the initial and confirmation test for alcohol. It shall be a condition of continued employment for all employees to submit specimen(s) for analysis based upon the following:

1. Reasonable Suspicion Testing

- (a) Observed drug use during work hours or on work site premises.
- (b) Apparent physical state of Impairment.
- (c) Incoherent mental state.
- (d) Marked changes in personal behavior that are otherwise unexplainable.
- (e) Deteriorating work performance that is otherwise unexplainable.
- (f) Accidents or other actions that provide reasonable cause to believe the employee may be under the influence of drugs.

2. Post Accident Testing

Any employee involved in or otherwise causing a job-related accident which requires medical treatment by a company physician or by hospital/clinic medical personnel will be required to take a drug test immediately following the accident or at the time of initial treatment by a medical care facility.

Any employee involved in or otherwise causing an accident resulting in damage to work site property or to another's property while the employee is conducting company business may be required to take a drug test. Also, "near miss" incidents, where there is no personal or physical damage or injuries, will be evaluated and a determination will be made if there is cause to test for drugs for any or all employees involved.

3. Random Testing

We also reserve the right to conduct random drug testing. All full-time and part-time employees may be randomly tested. A computer program or other independent, bias-free method of name selection will be used to ensure that employees to be tested are randomly selected.

C. Grounds for Discipline or Termination

An employee in possession of, selling/purchasing, or attempting to sell/purchase drugs, or having body concentrations of drugs above the threshold levels established by the Substance Abuse & Mental Health Administration (SAMHA) and applicable local, state, or federal laws or regulations while at work, or on company business, is guilty of misconduct and is subject to discipline, up to and including termination. Failure to submit to required drug testing is misconduct and is grounds for discipline, up to and including immediate termination.

An employee may request in writing access to testing records within seven (7) days of notification of test results.

The law regarding drug testing that are applicable to your state will be applied.

Harassment Policy

The Company is committed to providing a work environment that is pleasant, healthful, comfortable, and free from intimidation, hostility or other offenses which might interfere with work performance. Harassment of any sort - verbal, sexual, physical, visual - will not be tolerated.

What is Harassment?

Harassment can take many forms. It may be, but is not limited to: words, signs, jokes, pranks, intimidation, physical contact, or violence. Harassment is not necessarily sexual in nature. Sexually harassing conduct may include unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, or any other verbal or physical contact of a sexual nature that prevents an individual from effectively performing the duties of their position or creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive working environment, or when such conduct is made a condition of employment or compensation, either implicitly or explicitly.

Responsibility

All Ideal Merchandising employees, and particularly work site managers, have a responsibility for keeping our work environment free of harassment. Any employee who becomes aware of an incident of harassment, whether by witnessing the incident or being told of it, must report it to their immediate manager, or any management representative with whom they feel comfortable. When management becomes aware that harassment might exist, it is obligated by law to take prompt and appropriate action.

Reporting

Any incidents of harassment must be immediately reported to a manager, Human Resources Department, or other management representative. Appropriate investigation and disciplinary action will be taken. All reports will be promptly investigated with due regard for the privacy of everyone involved. Any employee found to have harassed a fellow employee or subordinate will be subject to severe disciplinary action or possible discharge. Ideal Merchandising will also take any additional action necessary to appropriately remedy the situation. No adverse employment action will be taken for any employee making a good faith report of alleged harassment.

Ideal Merchandising accepts no liability for harassment of one employee by another employee. The individual who makes unwelcome advances, threatens or in any way harasses another employee is personally liable for such actions and their consequences. Ideal Merchandising will not provide legal, financial or any other assistance to an individual accused of harassment if a legal complaint is filed.

Proof of U.S. Citizenship and/or Right to Work

Federal regulations require that all applicants must complete and sign Federal Form I-9, Employment Eligibility Verification Form, within the first three days of hiring, and all applicants who are hired need to present documents of identity and eligibility to work in the U. S.

BASIC EMPLOYMENT INFORMATION

Work Week

The work week is generally defined as a period of five (5) consecutive eight (8) hour days.

Pay Date

Payroll is Biweekly. Pay checks will be sent by US Mail unless you are set up on direct deposit. Motel receipts must accompany time sheets to be reimbursed. A $45 maximum per night unless authorization by Company President is allowed. A $20 per diem will be paid with a motel receipt.

Introductory Period

As a new employee, you will serve a ninety (90) day introductory period. You may be assigned to a variety of duties and your performance will be reviewed periodically.

Performance Reviews

Your first performance review will be at ninety (90) days; thereafter, performance reviews will be done annually. The performance review measures your performance against the requirements of your job. The performance review is an exchange of information between employee and supervisor during which strengths, weaknesses, and development needs are identified.

All wage increases are based strictly on merit and should not be construed as being automatic. Your eligibility for an increase will depend on such factors as job performance, training, completion, attendance, tardiness, safety, and attitude as evaluated by your supervisor. Your supervisor will discuss your review with you in detail. He/she will offer specific suggestions for improving and help set performance goals to be met by the time of your next review. If you are unhappy with your evaluation, you may discuss your disagreement with the Human Resources Manager.

Promotion and Advancement

Positions other than manager level will be posted. Whenever possible, higher job openings are filled by promoting present employees. Promotion is based on a combination of proven skills and abilities, length of service, overall employment record and the ability to perform the work.

Reduction In Workforce

Although no company plans on reductions, business conditions sometimes make reductions in the workforce necessary. Workforce reductions and return to the workforce will be based upon a combination of skill and ability, length of continuous service, and the requirements of available jobs.

Termination Of Employment

It is the policy of this facility to give both Ideal Merchandising and the employee ample time to adjust to the termination of employment for reasons other than termination for cause. Since employment is based on the mutual consent of both Ideal Merchandising and the employee, either party is privileged to terminate employment at any time, for any reason.

Payment of Wages Upon Termination

State law regulates the payment of final wages due on termination or death of an employee. The specified period between separation of employment and the due date of final wages may vary depending on the type of separation (voluntary or involuntary).

This takes very little time and could be very useful to you.

You and your manager will decide on a specific time for a weekly telephone visit. This is important as this is when you will receive updates on resets or other modifications to the lines we service as well as put in your requests for literature and displays or any other needs you may have. The Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993 (FMLA) covers all employees who work for employers with 50 or more employees within 75 miles of a given work place. An employee must have worked at least 12 months for the employer and 1250 hours in the past year to be entitled to the leave benefit. All eligible employees are entitled to a total of 12 weeks of leave during any 12 month period for one or more of the following: 1) birth of a child, 2) placement of child for adoption or foster care, 3) caring for a spouse, child, or parent with a serious health condition, or 4) the serious health condition of the employee. A serious health condition is defined as inpatient care at a hospital, hospice, or residential medical care facility, or continuing care by a doctor of medicine or osteopathy. The employer can require an employee to provide a doctor's certification of the serious health condition.

An employee who takes leave under the law must be able to return to the same job or a job with equivalent status and pay. (There is a limited exception to this for certain highly compensated employees.) In addition, the employer must continue the employee's health benefits during the leave period at the same level and conditions as if the employee had continued to work. If the employee chooses not to return to work for reasons other than a continued serious health condition, the employer may recover from the employee the premium that the employer paid for the employee's health coverage.

Standards of Conduct

By accepting employment with us, you have a responsibility to Ideal Merchandising, Inc., and to your fellow employees to adhere to certain rules of behavior and conduct. The purpose of these rules is not to restrict your rights, but rather to be certain that you understand what conduct is expected and necessary. When each person is aware that he or she can fully depend upon fellow workers to follow the rules of conduct, then our organization will be a better place to work for everyone. Generally speaking, we expect each person to act in a mature and responsible way at all times. If questions, please see your manager for an explanation.

Only a successful business can provide its employees stable employment with opportunity for career growth. To be successful, a business requires employees who use their working hours in the most productive manner. When an employee does not cooperate in the group effort, it may be necessary to apply disciplinary action in the form of a warning, a suspension without pay, or even discharge, depending on the seriousness of the action.

Here at Ideal Merchandising, Inc. there is rarely the need for severe discipline; however, violation of any of the following rules may result in disciplinary action, up to and including immediate termination. This list is not all-inclusive, but is representative of the kinds of violations that would normally result in termination.

12. Always leave your area clean and free from debris.
